

The background of the entire image is a collage of various tarot cards, primarily from the Wands suit. The cards are overlapping and tilted at different angles. Visible cards include the King of Wands, Queen of Wands, Knight of Wands, and several numbered cards (V, IV, VII). The cards are rendered in a monochromatic style with shades of green and blue. A semi-transparent purple rectangle is centered over the collage, serving as a backdrop for the text.

TAROT COACHING

Dear Joan,

Thank you for purchasing an email tarot reading from me. I have picked the cards for your question and created a card spread. You can see the photo of the card spread below with a detailed analysis of the meaning of the spread and what it means for you.

Please keep in mind that all tarot readings / intuitive coaching sessions are a guide only. You have free will and can make any changes in your life as you wish. A reading does not compel you to take any specific action. It only makes suggestions. These suggestions should be considered and weighed up along with any other information you have about your situation. (You can find a full disclaimer at the end of this document).

Question

"Is it the right time to start my own business? Would it be successful?"

Interpretation

We have 4 Major Arcana cards in this spread. These cards symbolise major life events, situations which can have a bigger impact on your life. So it tells me that this question is an important one and can have considerable effect on your life. So finding the right answer here is quite important. As you told me about your background you are working as an accountant at a company and just finished a web development course in your spare time. You are struggling at your job, doing a lot of overtime and would like to start something new as you feel burnt out and would like to be your own boss.

I can see the whole situation in the centre of the spread where the Strength and the Magician cards are showing that you are in a situation which demands great willpower on your part and that you have mastered new skills, doing or just finished a course.

What the cards are also telling me is that your goal by starting a business is to get more experience. To get real life practical experience. If I were you I would ask myself "Do I have confidence in my knowledge?", "Do I have enough knowledge to be a good web developer?" Do you really want to have your own business or is it just a temporary solution until you get some work experience and will have enough confidence to apply for a good coding job?

Your main obstacle in achieving your goal of getting more experience actually seems to be the fact that you do not have a lot of experience. This is fine when you start something but you should keep in mind that it seems that your lack of experience will be a major obstacle on your path if you choose to start your web development business.

Your main strength in this situation is your ability to make decisions. You need to consider all your possibilities and choose carefully. I would say I would not recommend acting too impulsively here, jumping straight into a new business leaving behind everything. You definitely should consider your options carefully. This is symbolised by the 2 of Cups. This might also mean that you should consider trying to juggle 2 professions at the same time while you are just starting up your business.

As your main goal is getting more experience I would recommend looking around for more opportunities to learn or practice your skills as it seems that there are sources of knowledge around you. Maybe you will find a new course to take or even a person to get advice or mentorship from. You might have already found these opportunities or they will be coming up soon.

If you decide to take this path and start working on your own business your first step definately should be finding ways to get more experience. There are three 7s in this spread, they are all saying "experience!"

Your overall approach on your journey as a web developer should be seeking guidance and inner wisdom. This might sound silly or strange but the High Priest card is just about that. It seems that this whole question, wether to start your web development business or not is quite an important one for you. If you face this question you can discover something important about yourself. I would definitely recommend asking yourself what you really want? What is your real goal? Do you really want to do a coding business or is it just something to escape your current work situation or achieve something else.

The good news is that if you choose to start your own business, you will definitely find it out. The Justice card shows that the final outcome on this road will be that you will discover the truth. The Justice card usually means that you are on the right path but sometimes can tell you that you will discover something unexpected which might be even an unpleasant discovery. So I picked 3 more cards to clarify the final outcome you might achieve on this path. These cards telling me that if you choose to start your own business you will hit some obstacles first and will need to work hard but you will be able to finish a previous chapter in your life and start a new path, a new adventure. This new path will most likely be your new web development business though because this journey will include some discoveries about yourself it might even be something entirely new.

In terms of timing this will take some time. You will not be able to achieve very quick successes here. You will definitely need to work on it and overcome your obstacles to achieve successes or to decide if it is really for you or not.

Summary

- You want to get more experience on your new skill path.
- But to succeed as a new business you need to gain more experience as a web developer.
- You should consider if you really want to have your own business?
- Your main strength is to be able to make decisions. You should consider your possibilities carefully.
- You might need to juggle 2 professions or walk two paths at the same time for a while.
- Look around to see if you can get more knowledge through another course or advice from a mentor or friend. Or an Internship program maybe?
- If you go ahead first you should concentrate on getting more experience.
- You will hit some obstacles first so you will have to persevere.
- Seek deeper meaning. Try to find what you really want to do. What you really want to do with your life and career.
- You will find out the truth finally.
- On this path you can close a chapter of your life and start a new one.

Please keep in mind that the only person who can decide what you should do in this situation is you. Everything I have written here is just thoughts for consideration. It seems that in this situation the decision if you start your business or not will have an important impact on your life. You should consider if you really want to do this business or the web development profession at all. If you decide to go ahead with your business you will need to get more experience which might pose some initial problems but if you will have perseverance you can reach success.

I hope this can help you to make up your mind. Please let me know if you have any feedback on this or any questions regarding this reading.

I wish you all the best in this and all your endeavours,

Leslie
